Archbishop of Canterbury Welcome

Welcome to Canterbury for the 2008 Lambeth Conference. It is a real blessing to greet you as we begin our work together, and I pray that these days spent in reflection, prayer, discussion and fellowship will bear fruit in the life of the entire Communion in which God has called us to minister.

The chief aims of our time together are, first, that we become more confident in our Anglican identity, by deepening our awareness of how we are responsible to and for each other; and second, that we grow in energy and enthusiasm for our task of leading the work of mission in our Church.

Our ministry takes place in the context of a needy and divided world, in which there is both deep fear and great suffering. Jesus Christ says again and again to his disciples, 'Do not be afraid'. These are words which I hope will echo for us each day as we meet and talk here. But they will sound in our hearts only when we have our eyes fixed on the reality of Christ's unique saving person and on the world-transforming power of his resurrection.

Our Bible studies will help us concentrate on these things, as we are led through the Gospel of St John, reflecting on what Jesus says about himself. Our Communion is living through very difficult times and we are bound to be aware of the divisions and conflicts that have hurt us all in recent years. But, as the Lord says (John 16:35), it is in union with him that we shall find peace.

And that peace will be what makes the difference in our common life as a Church. More than that, it will be what shapes our whole engagement with the world. We do not offer a peace that is simply the result of the world's processes, but the peace of the Son's union with the Father in the Spirit, the eternal but ever-moving outpouring of love in communion. As we receive this and live our way into it, our whole vision of how the world is to be transfigured will change and develop.

In our Bible study groups and in the 'Indaba' groups that will meet daily, in which we hope everyone will feel able to give full voice to their aspirations and concerns, it is this vision that we must keep fresh. May God help all of us to be open to his leading and open to one another in Christ as we seek his will.

God bless you in the days ahead. Remember that you are welcome here in Christ's name, welcome as a precious gift to the whole fellowship. May we be one so that the world will believe.

The Lambeth Conference Design Group Welcome

Working closely with Archbishop Rowan, the Lambeth Conference Design Group has met regularly since 2005. Our task has been to deliver a conference which will have a guite different feel from previous conferences. From the outset, Archbishop Rowan was concerned that it should resemble less a parliamentary debating chamber with a string of resolutions but rather provide time for the bishops' spiritual reflection, learning, sharing of experiences and time for discerning more fully the bishops' particular role in God's mission and this is what we have sought to deliver.

The purpose of the Lambeth Conference 2008 is to enable the Bishops of the Anglican Communion to discern and share more deeply their Anglican identity and to become even better equipped for their Christ-given task of being leaders in God's mission.

In particular, we pray that by the end of the Conference, as bishops we will: be restored and refreshed spiritually, have a deeper knowledge of each other and the missionary challenges facing each of us in different places around the world, be more aware of the resources, both spiritual and physical, that God has given us to meet these challenges, have a greater understanding and appreciation of our life together in the Anglican Communion and our collegiality as Anglican bishops, continue to address the internal conflicts of recent years, discover a new level of trust in our common service to God's mission and have a greater understanding of the special contribution that Anglicanism can make to the worldwide family of churches and the wider world.

That is a wide reaching agenda but one which we, as the Design Group, feel can realistically be achieved within the format. We hope we have designed a conference which has space, where people have time to breathe, listen to each other and build relationships.

I would like to thank my fellow members of the Design Group, Fung Yi Wong (Hong Kong), Nomfundu Walaza (South Africa), Professor Ian Douglas (USA), Bishop Colin Fletcher (England), Bishop James Tengatenga (Malawai), Bishop Miguel Tamayo (Cuba and Uruguay), Bishop Winston Halapua (our conference chaplain – New Zealand), Archbishop Thabo Makgoba (South Africa), Canon Andrew Norman (Lambeth Palace) and in particular Archbishop Ian Ernest (Indian Ocean) who nobly assumed the chairmanship of the group while I was in hospital.

Most Revd Sir Ellison Pogo

The Lambeth Conference Design Group

Spouses' Conference Welcome

In his letter to the Romans, St Paul says, 'I am longing to see you so that ...we may be mutually encouraged by each other's faith' (Romans 1.11-12). That is exactly I how feel.

I am looking forward to seeing each and every one of you at the Lambeth Spouses' Programme of the Lambeth Conference 2008, because I know that God will bless us and encourage us through each other.

Our programme is going to be packed with inspiring speakers, looking at some of the most urgent issues facing us as human beings made in God's image. Then there will be workshops where we can deepen our faith and equip ourselves as God's messengers, opportunities to relax, and an expectation that we learn from each other. And above all, our time together will be in the context of worship, Bible study and prayer, so that we do not try to do God's work in our own strength but are, in all things, guided by the Holy Spirit.

Teams of people across the world have been praying for us and will continue to do so as we meet. God will be with us. My hopes are very high.

Mrs Jane Williams

It is at times like this that I wish I were fluent in every language under the sun so that I could greet everyone in their own language – a kind of Pentecost experience! In a multi-national, multi-ethnic and multi-cultural gathering of spouses, words though necessary will be inadequate. It will be the smile on our faces and our gestures of goodwill towards each other that will speak volumes about who we are.

I hope that you will be excited at the prospect of meeting up with your brothers and sisters from across the globe. Our time together will be a great opportunity for us to focus on the things we share in common. We all have first hand knowledge of the pressures, which impinge on our spouses in their leadership roles. May our time together re-energise us, may it be a kind of transfiguration experience that will lead us down the mountain, to the places from which we have come – ready to proclaim and live the Good News.

The Revd Rose Hudson-Wilkin

Chaplain to the Spouses' Conference

Secretary General Welcome

From the Secretary General of the Anglican Communion and Secretary to the Conference.

The Lambeth Conference holds a special place in our self-understanding as Anglicans, and it has been a privilege to have had some part in the planning of the 2008 Conference.

Each Conference develops its own special character and ethos, and no doubt the forthcoming Conference will be no different. Much of the work will be in small groups to ensure that every bishop's voice will be heard, and all within our commitment to God's mission in the world, and our roles and responsibilities within that mission. For over two thirds of the bishops attending, this will be their first Lambeth Conference and I know that whether this is your first Conference or your fourth (yes, there will be some who were present at the 1978 Conference!) you will be looking forward to this with anticipation.

This official programme provides details of conference events, Self Select Sessions as well as information about Fringe Events and the Marketplace. Your welcome pack also includes background materials for sessions.

I look forward to meeting you in Canterbury in July.

Yours sincerely

Canon Kenneth Kearon

Secretary General, and Secretary to the Conference

Conference Manager Welcome

It is very good to see this programme come to print. It represents enormous commitment, creativity and hard work of so many people. The vision for this programme began with the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Lambeth Conference Design Group. It has been brought into being by the Design Group and the myriad of people who have generously offered time, ideas and insight in bringing to birth the various sections of the programme. You will hear from some of them in their own words in other parts of this programme. More importantly, you will engage with their work as you participate in Bible Study, Worship, Indaba Groups, Self Select Sessions, as you receive the ministry of the Spirituality Team, and as you live the Lambeth Conference 2008 and the Lambeth Spouses Conference.

My personal thanks go to all who have participated in and supported the planning of the Lambeth Conference 2008. My particular thanks go to the staff of the Lambeth Conference Team: David Craig, Emily Horrocks and Anna Potts who have worked tirelessly and with great enthusiasm and commitment over many months.

Part of the great privilege for those of us involved in the conference planning at whatever level has been to experience the great enthusiasm, openness, trust, understanding and commitment to the task that is God's mission which has come to surround our work. My prayer for you all as you begin together the journey that will be the Lambeth Conference 2008, is that you will experience these gifts of the Holy Spirit at work amongst you.

Conference Manager

Introducing The Conference Staff

The Rt Revd Dr Winston Halapua - Conference Chaplain

... is Bishop for the Diocese of Polynesia in Aotearoa New Zealand, Principal of the College of the Diocese of Polynesia, St John's College, and Lecturer at the University of Auckland, New Zealand.

The Chaplaincy Team is honoured to stand alongside members of this Lambeth Conference in assisting with the services of worship and with pastoral care. Services of worship are planned to enable us to be open to the Spirit of God so that we are in rhythm with God's will for our Conference and for what lies ahead of us in mission. Pastoral care will be spearheaded by those who will minister from the Prayer Place at the centre of the University Campus who comprise mostly members of a number of Anglican religious communities. Members of the religious orders will be living as a community of prayer at the heart of the Conference.

The Prayer Place will be open throughout daylight hours for silent prayer. Each afternoon from 16.30 to 17.30 there will be offered an opportunity for ministry - prayer, the layingon of hands, confession and absolution, anointing - for any who wish to use this, and the chaplains may be approached at any time for meeting and counsel.

Professor Gerald West - Bible Studies

... teaches Old Testament/Hebrew Bible and African Biblical Heremeneutics in the School of Religion and Theology, University of KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa. He is also Director of the Ujamaa

Centre for Community Development and Research, a project in which socially engaged biblical scholars and ordinary African readers of the Bible from poor, working-class, and marginalized communities collaborate for social transformation. Among Gerald West's recent publications are The Academy of the Poor: Towards a Dialogical Reading of the Bible (Pietermaritzburg: Cluster Publications 2003) and an edited volume, together with Musa Dube, The Bible in Africa: Transactions, Trajectories and Trends (Leiden: Brill, 2000).

Gerald is married to the Rev Dr Beverley Haddad, an Anglican priest, who works in the field of Theology and Development, and they have two sons, Barry who is 26 and Richard who is 21. Gerald is also active in the formation of an Anglican House of Studies in Pietermaritzburg, an initiative which will provide Anglicans from the Province, the continent, and the wider communion to reflect on what it means to be an Anglican in African contexts.

Conference Staff

Stephen Lyon – Facilitator Indaba Groups

... is the Partnership Secretary for Partnership for World Mission (PWM) within the Church of England. PWM is a co-ordinating body for the different mission links the Church of England has with other parts of the Communion through the mission agencies and the Diocesan Links. With his colleague Anna Potts, Stephen has overseen the pre Lambeth Conference Hospitality Initiative and has oversight for the curriculum for the Indaba Groups. PWM has enjoyed co-ordinating the pre Lambeth Hospitality Initiative which will offer all the British dioceses the chance to host friends from other parts of the Communion, many of whom we have had little chance to meet face to face.

The Indaba Groups, together with the smaller Bible Study Groups, will allow face to face conversations around issues central to the life of the Communion. It is our hope that the unrushed and participatory style of these groups will enable the explorations to deepen our understanding not only of the issues themselves but also of the differing contexts in which we are seeking to co-operate together in God's mission.

Dave Friswell – Lambeth Conference Steward Manager

My role has involved recruiting and training sixty Stewards for the Conference. Drawn from the various Anglican Provinces these young women and men will play their part in ensuring the smooth running of the Conference. They are here to help Bishops and Spouses get to the right places at the right times, ensure all is in place for the different meeting rooms, deliver papers to groups where necessary and assist with security of the event. You will also meet them as you travel on the coaches and they will help you find the right coach to get back to the campus. Please do ask a Steward if you have any questions – they might not know all the answers or be able to help you themselves – but they will be able to point you to someone who will be able to assist. With the help of Erin Rutherford, my job is to ensure the Stewards are fully equipped to carry out their duties and to maintain appropriate staffing levels from early in the morning to late at night every day of the Conference.

Following on from the Lambeth Conference many of the Stewards will be staying in Canterbury for a special Youth Conference which will look at some of the issues raised during Lambeth.

Trained as an engineer and a joiner, I have worked for the Anglican Church in Malawi, USPG in the UK and I now have a part time role as Executive Officer of the Melanesian Mission. When not involved with the Lambeth Conference I restore vintage and veteran motor cars.

Language Services

One of the aims of the Lambeth Conference is to allow voices from all the corners of the Anglican Communion to be heard. Interpretation and translation will play a key role in meeting this goal. The Lambeth Conference is geared to provide a variety of language services for the official functions, at least in the following languages: Arabic (Juba), Burmese, French, Japanese, Korean, Portuguese, and Spanish, both for the Bishops and their Spouses. With the help of a team of skilled professionals and volunteer interpreters and translators, it will strive to provide them with information, resources and support so as to ensure their meaningful participation in the Lambeth Conference and the Lambeth Spouses Conference.

The Revd Thomas Mansella

... is the current Coordinator of Translation Services for The episcopal Church (USA). Fr. Mansella is based in Virginia, USA, has travelled extensively through the Anglican Communion, is an episcopal priest with over 30 years of ordained ministry in highly diverse cultural and language settings and, as a professional translator was certified by the US-based American Translators Association.

Mrs Yoshimi Gregory

... comes from Tokyo and worked with the British Government in economic development and inward investment for over 10 years. Bilingual specialist in communication between peoples and nations, as well as media, marketing and PR, she has worked on a number of projects for governments, industry, NGO and education for over 15 years. Yoshimi is based in the Diocese of Leicester in England where she chairs the Japan Link committee and is a trustee of USPG and USPG Ireland, and a governor of the Queen's Foundation in Birmingham.

Canterbury Liaison Committee

Welcome from the Diocese of Canterbury

The Diocese of Canterbury's major claim to fame is being the oldest in the Communion, its 'Mother Diocese', and we are delighted that it falls to us, his clergy and laity, to support our Archbishop Rowan as he calls together and hosts his Conference. It is my privilege and responsibility to Chair the Committee, which co-ordinates the resources of the Diocese, Cathedral, Schools and Churches, to assist in the welcome and the care of you, the Delegates. The magnificent Cathedral will be at the heart of your coming together. Among the 60 resident Stewards from around the Communion, 20 will be from our Universities in Canterbury. There will be opportunities for you to visit our parishes. Our volunteers on campus, ordinary Christians, lay and ordained offering their time and skills, will be easily recognisable; do get to know them and make use of them. Our Enquiry Desk at the Grimond Building will do their best with any queries you have.

Our hope and prayer is that all who are associated with the Conference will say, "It is good that we were there."

Canon Brian Chalmers (Chairman of the Canterbury Liaison Committee, CLC).

Press and Communication

Considerable thought has been given over the past nine months to the communications dimension of the Conference. Working closely with the Design Group, and in liaison with the Planning Group for the Spouses Conference, we began by considering how the internal conversation of the Conference might best be facilitated. Our hope is that by focussing on the essentials - how the Conference speaks to itself - and working outwards we can best do justice to the work of the bishops over the two and half weeks of the Conference and retreat.

Following on from the retreat and the daily round of worship and bible study the internal conversation will begin with and develop within the Indaba groups. We hope to facilitate that conversation and faithfully to communicate some of its richness and the richness of the lived experience of the conference as a whole to the outside world. We have developed one or two innovative ways to achieve that end which will be presented to participants at the beginning of the conference proper.

Together we face a number of challenges from the huge demands placed on an event of this kind by an extraordinarily diverse and increasingly technological media, to the range of audiences who will be interested in the progress and the outcomes of conference discussions, not all of whom by any means have access to 24 hour internet driven communications. We have to keep each of these audiences in mind, not least all Anglicans worldwide and perhaps especially those who will not hear any news from the conference until well after it is finished and by word of mouth, and not by e-mail alert. To achieve this end we have organised the communications team into three - a team focussed on the range of communications which are internal to the conference led by Jim Rosenthal (ACO); one devoted to the facilitation of information dissemination by internet within and without the conference led by Michael Ade (ACO); and a team led by Peter Crumpler (CofE) which is focussed on meeting the needs of the range of media from broadcasters to blogs. These teams will be a mix of local talent and communicators from across the Communion.

We have been greatly and generously assisted in creating some innovative multi-media communications products - some of which will be available to bishops to take away to help with telling the story of the Conference in dioceses and parishes at home.

Archbishop Phillip Aspinall will take the lead in speaking for the Conference in the daily press conference and will be assisted by a number of bishops with particular expertise and experience of the daily topics which the Conference will consider - in the Indaba groups and in the self-select sessions.

The Spouses Conference will have its own small communications team which will receive support from the main conference team as required.

Inevitably a good deal has already been written about the Conference before it has even begun. We hope that the real story of the Conference will be a story told by the participants themselves, and that it will inspire in all great hope and trust for the future.

DEPARTURES

Buses will leave the Conference at hourly intervals (Darwin Bus Stop) from 04:00 for Heathrow and Gatwick Airports. Delegates should leave the University at least six hours before the time of the flight's departure. August is a holiday month, there will be much traffic on the roads and the airports will be particularly busy.

There will be a minibus service to Canterbury East for passengers wishing to leave for London.

ALL DELEGATES ARE ASKED TO CONFIRM WITH THE INFORMATION DESK IN GRIMOND THE TIME OF THE FLIGHT DEPARTURE AND WHICH BUS THEY WISH TO USE. CANTERBURY VOLUNTEERS WILL BE ON HAND TO HELP AND ADVISE YOU OVER THIS.

We are asked by the University to vacate rooms by 10:00 am as another Conference of 1,200 are arriving in the afternoon. For later departures a holding area for luggage will be provided.

Eucharist Gospel and Mission [2]	Clare Amos, Director of Theological Studies
The Eucharist, the central act of Christian worship, calls us to mission. This session will seek to highlight the missionary thrust of the Eucharist by exploring some of the New Testament Gospels. We will discover from the Gospels insights about the Eucharist and explore how Eucharistic worship can shed new light on the shape of the Gospels – leading us to mission.

Exploring the issues of the 'uniqueness' and 'universality' of Jesus Christ in relation to the eternal salvation offered to everyone through him, including people of other faiths, and the judgement of God which will be faced by everyone on 'the last day'.
Jews and Christians: Are we still getting it wrong? David Gifford, Chief Executive Council of Christians and Jews; With Nigel McCulloch; Bishop of Manchester, England in the chair and Rabbi Dr Tony Bayfield; Head of the Reform Movement UK and Rabbi Danny Rich, Chief Executive, Liberal Judaism UK
The relationship between the Church and the Jewish people still causes tension, disappointment and anger – on both sides. Why is this and will it ever change? This seminar hosted by the world's oldest national interfaith organisation, the Council of Christians and Jews brings two very senior rabbis to "tell it as it is". This will be informative, incisive and challenging.

Dalits and Conversion [2]	Dr. V. Devasahayam (CSI Bishop in Madras, Chennai, India) and Dr. Sathianatt Sundo Kim Chair of World Christianity, Wesley theological Seminary, Washing
The Indian Constitution guarantees the right to religious conversion. Yet Hindu and liberal Christian voices have argued that conversion from one religion to another is not acceptable in the 21st century. In a world that celebrates religious pluralism and tolerance between faith communities, Christian mission is considered as being an obsolete mission model. Analyzing cases in the Churches of South and North India this workshop will look at (a) the political tactics of state elites (Hindu Nationalists) as they attempt to erode the rights of Dalits to convert from Hinduism, (b) the life changing effects of the Christian gospel as testified to by oppressed and marginalized people, (c) and the theological and political necessity of retaining the right of religious conversion in India.

Chair: Tim Stevens, Bishop of Leicester, England with Mrs Heather Al Yusuf, Inter Faith Marriage Network, UK and Paul Vasanthakumar, Bishop of Tiruchi-Tanjore, South India.
This session will address two challenges that arise wherever faiths live together: mixed marriages and issues related to conversion. Cultural contexts differ, and it matters much which religions are involved. Common is the imperative to provide appropriate pastoral care. Love does not necessarily conquer all; conversion involves more than a faith decision. Members will be encouraged to reflect from their own experience, and learn from others. Indaba 4

Theological Education: What the ACO might offer Robert Paterson, Bishop of Sodor and Man, England with Clare Amos and members of the TEAC Working Group.
One of the key themes of this Lambeth Conference has been the importance of theological education for the ministry and mission of the Anglican Communion. Over the past few years TEAC, the Working Party of Theological Education of the Anglican Primates, has been working to provide resources in this area. This session offers an opportunity for bishops to discuss with members of TEAC some of the priorities for the development of theological education over the next few years. Indaba 11

DISCLAIMER - THE MARKETPLACE AND FRINGE EVENTS No bona fide Christian organisation has been refused a presence in the Marketplace or an event on the Conference Fringe. The presence of so wide a range of organisations reflecting many different perspectives and positions of Christian action and theology reflect the richness of ministry offered by the world church. In taking responsibility for a stand or sponsoring an event, agencies have entered into a contract with the Lambeth Conference to offer a facility, a service, access to a ministry and each brings with it a Christian integrity. The presence of any group on the Fringe or Marketplace does not guarantee an endorsement by the Lambeth Conference or Anglican Communion . It does, however reflect a desire for transparency, an extension of Christian hospitality and a generosity of spirit.

Loving and life-giving God in whose image we are all made, grant us eyes of faith when we see your world marred by greed, poverty and injustice. Release us from our despair, complacency and fear, which lead us to forget Christ's light in our lives and stop us ensuring that all your children flourish in this world of plenty. Pour down on us the gift of hope so that we may be true followers of your Son, whose life shows all are brothers and sisters, and infinitely precious in your sight. Amen

Dave Walker is the conference's resident cartoonist. His cartoons will become a light-hearted commentary on what happens during the event. One new work will be created each day. View them all in the marquee outside Prayer Place.

Dave has a regular blog with the Church Times (www.churchtimes.co.uk/blog) and his own website with Cartoon Church (www.cartoonchurch.co.uk) His Lambeth Conference cartoons will also be available on the conference intranet and the Lambeth Conference website.

Also visit the Giles Lane Teaching annexe to see an art exhibition by Leonie Marklew Barrett. Leonie's work is a collection of spiritual and religious art for prayer and meditation. It is all based around biblical passages and Christian faith.

Welcome to the Lambeth Enquiry and Information Service

- We are open from 8am to 9pm every day
- You can find us in the entrance hall of the Grimond building
- Do come and meet us we will try to answer your queries however big or small about the Conference, the Campus and Canterbury

What you may need to know right away

Buses into Canterbury

You can catch these from either the bus stop on Giles Lane outside Keynes College, or from the stop opposite Darwin College. (see your Campus Map and Guide).

Copies of the Bus Timetable are available at the Enquiry Desk.

Buses run to and from the University to Canterbury every fifteen minutes, less frequently after 18.00 hours, and on Sunday, and the journey takes approximately 15 minutes.

For the city centre either get off at the foot of St. Thomas's Hill before the Westgate Towers and walk into St. Peter's St. which continues into the High Street, or continue round the ring road to the bus station, which is where the larger shops can be found (see your Canterbury City guide).

A ticket valid for a single day costs £2 A ticket valid for a week costs £7

Walking to Canterbury – there are a number of footpaths that lead down towards the centre of town from the Eliot and Rutherford slopes.

Taxis

Taxis can usually be found at the taxi rank outside the Mandela Student Union Building on the Eliot Roundabout (see your Campus Map and Guide) or outside Keynes College exit on the same roundabout.

The cost from the University to Canterbury West Station in daytime is approximately £7 and in the evening it is likely to be about £8.50.

To Canterbury East Station, the costs are approximately £6.50 daytime, and £8.00 evenings.

For any emergency – Police, Fire or accident needing an Ambulance

The University 'Campus Watch' - Security Service - must be contacted first.

PHONE 3333 – They will co-ordinate all emergencies.

First aid

For minor accidents requiring first aid, there are two full time paramedics on duty at the Conference at all times. These can be contacted via members of staff.

In addition, at most times there will be a member of staff trained in first aid in each college.

The University Medical Centre and Pharmacy in Giles Lane (see your Campus Map and Guide) is also available for less urgent problems. The Enquiry Desk has full details of their availability.

Laundry

There is a laundry available in every College and in Park Wood Flats.

For those in Park Wood Flats, your bedroom lock/swipe card will also operate the laundry machines.

For those in other locations the laundry is coin operated.

Newspapers

These are for sale at the University Supermarket 'Essentials' (see your Campus Map and Guide) and at Park Wood Essentials.

Opening hours:

Weekdays 08.00 – 20.00 hours Weekends 09.00 – 17.00 hours

As well as the full range of British newspapers, there will also be international editions of New York Herald Tribune

The supermarkets also sell toiletries, stationery and food.

The Conference Shop is in the Market Place.

Once again, may we welcome you to the Lambeth Conference, and assure you that we are here to help you in any way that we can.

Thursday, 17th July 8pm – Spouses' Main Venue

Marriage, Mitres and Being Myself by Jane Williams

EACH SPOUSE ATTENDING THE EVENT WILL BE PRESENTED WITH A COPY OF THE BOOK AND JANE WILL BE ON HAND TO SIGN COPIES.

All Lambeth Conference delegates are invited to come and hear Mrs Williams speak on her latest book "Marriage, Mitres and Being Myself", about the trials and triumphs of life as a bishop's (and archbishop's) wife.

In this absorbing book, she pulls together the experiences of a unique band of diverse individuals whose common bond is an attachment to the higher echelons of the Anglican Communion. Bishops' spouses here discuss their lives openly - many for the first time.

Light refreshments available – wine, tea, coffee, soft drinks and delicious fair trade chocolates from Divine.
